Su Xiaobai, one of China's most prominent contemporary painters, has joined Sean Kelly gallery, which maintains spaces in New York and Taipei. Su is best known for his abstract works whose layers of lacquer and oil paint invokes traditional Eastern practices and Western modernism. Su's paintings have been featured in international solo and group exhibitions at institutions such as the National Taiwan Museum of Fine Arts in Taichung, the Langen Foundation in Neuss, Germany, and the Shanghai Art Museum, among others.
