2015 Through the Lens of 5 Artists

James Casebere

“This is the existential tipping point of the global citizen and the collective straining of identities toward a new unknown.”

James Casebere is an American visual artist living in New York who works from studio-constructed architectural models. His work has been collected by museums worldwide, including the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis and the Victoria and Albert and Tate Museums in London, among others. A career retrospective, “James Casebere: Fugitive,” curated by Okwui Enwezor, runs from February 12 - June 12, 2016 at Haus der Kunst in Munich.
