Editors' Picks: 12 Things Not to Miss in New York's Art World This Week

Each week, we search New York City for the most exciting and thought-provoking shows, screenings, and events. See them below.

7. "Anthony McCall: Split Second" at Sean Kelly

After putting his career as a fine artist making light installations on hold to run a graphic design business for 20 years, Anthony McCall has returned to his first calling. As an artist, his work incorporates elements of sculpture, architecture, cinema, and drawing. His latest Sean Kelly show features new works in the same vein of his 1973 "solid light" series, with projected light beams that are visible only when the darkened gallery is filled with a delicate mist.

Location: Sean Kelly Gallery 475, Tenth Avenue

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.; Tuesday–Friday, 11 a.m.–6 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m.
